Creating a Race of Leaders

What is important this present time in your world is to know the pioneer leaders of your past who greatly influenced your world today. The leaders of today, this present moment, should share and embrace the same faith, philosophy and objective as the people. They, the leaders, should thereby raise each of the governed to his or her own level, according to the principles of consistency from beginning to end.

"A leader should always love his people, protect them, and encourage them warmly into their own power and humanhood."

The mistakes, as we have studied and observed, are that throughout your history, hero-worship and fame-seeking have risen to the point of the idea that your leaders are great, and the general populace is ignorant and powerless. This concept in your country contradicts a true democracy and is wrong. So it shall be that individuals must and will awaken and unite voluntarily. Some will be artists, scientists and others from all walks of life. They will become teaching leaders of the people with whom they are working directly and will teach all men and women to be leaders. At the same time, it is important that those who support them must become leaders also.

To be a leader in your world, we would only suggest that the requirements be simple and evolve from the real essence of mankind. Leaders should be in absolute faith of their humanhood, declaring always, the greatness of God and self-responsibility.

Each teacher should also have a strong sense of responsibility for himself and those that he or she teaches. A leader should always love his people, protect them, and encourage them warmly into their own power and humanhood. The leader's sense of responsibility will deepen by his affection for his role as teacher and father or mother. When a leader lacks mercy or compassion he/she will be self-serving and irresponsible.

And a leader/teacher should always strive to be broad-minded. He should always try to be capable of understanding his members' needs, and individual situations, putting himself in their place. A leader should practice gentleness and forbearance, and be

Defending Sacred Ground

(The following is a excerpt from Alexander Collier's book in progress.)

The council has operated for thousands of years under strict guidelines and codes of conduct. The first of these rules is the rule of nonintervention with an evolving race. This is the first real challenge the council faces. Intervention not only changes our consciousness and evolution, but theirs as well when they get directly involved. We are not to look at any of the Andromedan council members as a savior. We really gain nothing by having someone come down here and save us because they take us off the hook, or complete the work for us and we don't gain the experience of permanent evolution.

With the ascension of the Pleadian Consciousness into the fourth and

Dear Friends,

The journey that has brought me to this moment has been full of challenges and lessons learned. Offering this newsletter is an opportunity to share knowledge with others. Much of this knowledge is not my own. This wisdom belongs to friends of ours. Most however, have not met them yet. Some of the insights that we will be presenting to you are those from Human Beings in the constellation of Andromeda. I want you all to know that I wish to place this information, this wisdom, this common sense, under the protection of the Terrans; the People of Earth. I ask you to remember the rights of all Human Beings to their opinion, regardless of how different it may be from another. I have always supported the underdog or the suppressed.

The most formidable weapon against error and fear is reason. Reason is a direct by-product of common sense. Common sense, I've learned, is the awareness of the invisible energies of life. Common sense is a deep humility with regard to the smallness of our world, before the immensity of the Universe. When the facts of our existence are honestly taken into account, our religion, and our beingness is startlingly clear. The only religion all of us on Earth ought to allow here is common sense.

Common sense is the true expression of Human intuition, and as such, is the basis of Human civilization, social peace, and harmony. It is not the exclusive possession of one group of people or of one race. Common sense is the universal inheritance of all Human Beings and other life forms. It is really the root of our existence. So, let's learn and teach each other common sense. It is not a religion. There are no founders. It has no dogma, and has no scriptures. Common sense appears to have few followers, especially in Washington D.C. It's time that we the people take over the roles on leadership, and heal ourselves, our families, and our world.

I am also attending the University of Earth, and feel overwhelmed at times with the negativity that has become a common attitude amongst our races. However, I have come to know in my heart, that once my perception has been exposed to higher knowledge and consciousness, I simply cannot return to denial. I will not and can not. So, with the help and confidence of friends and loved ones, we introduce to you, the first "Letters From Andromeda".

Thank you for your interest in this newsletter. I have struggled over what to write, not knowing what is the most important thing to say. I promise to do the best I can. That is all I can do. In closing, I would like to share with you the space and consciousness I'm in at this moment. I believe in God, but not the God of Religions. I believe in free will and self responsibility. I believe in the rights of equality of all life. And, I believe that in order to be truly happy, we must always be honest with ourselves. "To thine own self be true." Always be at one.

Sincerely,

Alexander Collier

fifth densities and their desire to forgive the war vibration, the Pleadians and the Andromedan council have chosen the task of educating Earth and the wake up of one billion souls to the facts of Earth's dilemma. Moranay has expressed the hope that it would be all of us. But, it does not appear to them that all of us on the Earth are ready for unconditional self-responsibility. I once asked Vasais what the future of our race is, here on Earth. I still remember the look he gave me and the small, simple smile that came over his face. He looked at me in the eyes and his own eyes became excited. At least that's the only way I know how to describe them. His pupils started to change color as he spoke. This is what he said of us here on Earth and our own future: "Responsible freedom of self-determination. Becoming truly self-confident and free to unconditionally be responsible for one self, without being coerced to accept some higher authority."

"Freedom must be gained specifically against the obstacles and conditions to which we are exposed to."

The Andromedans are very concerned that we as a race have become and are being over-stimulated by our increasing technical capacity. They feel that we are concentrating most of our energies on the production and consumption of physical matter or things, as Vasais calls it, and in the process, we experience ourselves as a thing, manipulating machines and then being manipulated by them. Andromedans feel that when we are not exploiting others we are exploiting ourselves. We are using our human essence as a means to serve our existence, that we are using our minds and consciousness to satisfy our ever-expanding false reality and to appease our artificial material needs. They see a very real danger then, that we on Earth, may forget that we are human beings. Therefore self definition regarding ourselves and our true real spiritual essence has never been more necessary that it is today. Now!

Vasais and Moranay have stated that our human nature is being manipulated to serve the purpose of the global government, and not the true unity of the human race here on Earth.

Mankind makes itself. Mankind is the author of its own history, and we are being asked to remember that the life of a human spiritual essence is the stream of the individual consciousness. The physical self that we carry is part of a complex process of evolution, an evolution that is supposed to lead us to a greater socialization as a race. And to an even greater individual freedom. Vasais has said on at least three occasions that any race, including mankind, achieves its greatness only as that race develops love and reason. The capacity to become aware, to give a genuine account of oneself to oneself, and this is a concept that we are all supposed to embrace at all times. The Andromedans have also expressed the idea, that real freedom is not a fact, but a possibility. Freedom must be gained specifically against the obstacles and conditions to which we are exposed to. Vasais and Moranay have suggested that each one of us look deeper into ourselves, and see whether we know or don't know, to what extent we are really free and to ask ourselves why not. Real freedom lies in the awareness of this truth. Vasais has said that we should be more enthusiastic about life, and its sacred character, and in sanctifying all life, we foster progression automatically and allow the evolvment of all life.

The Andromedans have strongly spoken of the need for self-knowledge. And that self-knowledge has always meant a surpassing of our limitations. A soul coming to maturity, and a humanity that becomes its potential.

Vasais has observed that we as a race, are trying to have, instead of being what we are, and our desire to "have", to "possess", becomes more real than our being. Vasais and Moranay also added, that we are in real danger of losing the identity of our personality, that this is what happened to the Grays, and they are dying. We should not want to follow their example.

On one particular contact, both Moranay and Vasais stated that they view our world as a world of gossip, of meaningless talk, in which no one in particular is responsible for anything. They said that they feel that we are forming concepts of life based solely on experience, that wanting to just experience all things, we could lose our being and identity.

Our humanity doesn't have a compass. We don't really know in what direction we are going, that we are and have been wandering around and around in different directions without any definite direction. When I asked in what direction we should be going in Vasais answered, "In the direction of wisdom. You have much wisdom scattered all around your world, and as long as its in this form it is of no particular value to your race. Only in bringing your wisdoms together and concentrating, can it become a real force for reason." ⊕ determined to hear the problems and teach guidance and self-determination to any person to establish self-faith and happiness.

"Building an honest and healthy race of human beings, means producing a world of leaders of true law of oneness."

A leader also needs to be impartial. He must not be swayed by his own feelings or self-serving considerations. Always eager to give a fair hearing to reasonable suggestions, but firm in protesting self-serving goals or mistaken views, even to his seniors.

Leaders should be careful of those that flatter them, as not to cater to their personal agendas. Leaders should cultivate the sense to spot cheap tricks, lies and sneakiness. They must also put the right person in the right place and be courageous about it. The idea is to build long-term integrity in all aspects of life and leadership. Always acknowledge the inconspicuous efforts of others, as all souls are part of and contribute to the whole.

Your leaders should also have self-confidence, courage and decisiveness. Leaders must believe in their ability to protect their members and help them advance to self-responsibility so all may become determined.

Those persons who have done the inner work on the path of being a true human being, acquire wisdom and courage and are true leaders. They always have faith in themselves. Those who walk the path of heart will discover that through faith emerges wisdom. And this same faith enables the leaders to employ their wisdom effectively in all situations. Courage is indispensable to be a leader. Leadership is no place for cowardice. Always strive to advance wisdom and courage.

Building an honest and healthy race of human beings, means producing a world of leaders of true law of oneness. Development of faith, integrity and character is both the starting point and the end result. This will make all people capable human beings. Every child born in your world is a new opportunity to build an honest and real world.

Leaders need not criticize each error on the part on their members or staff. A leader should praise them for what they have done well and capably.

There will be other people who will criticize.

Being a leader or becoming a leader does not mean you have perfect faith or wisdom. These are life-long pursuits. Being a leader is to help develop people, and to help people develop into self-responsibility; to be spiritually mature and free and to cultivate voluntary introspection.

Mankind can develop remarkably, even under adverse circumstances. When Earth awakens to her mission and towards her great objective, we have full faith that you will all be successful, and a source of great pride to us all.

Your brother, Moranay

This information is for distribution. I, a contactee do swear that this information is as given. It's short and to the point.

"We are placing many of the crop circles, however, not all of them. The issue is being confused. Our perspective is this: In your ancient past when the "gods" were returning from their expeditions along trade routes, many different races had outposts. To your race this is called civilization. Your secret priesthoods have been at the highest levels withholding information regarding the symbols in the crop circles. They are appearing from us, to make clear our boundries regarding your free will. We will support your free will, but you must ask for our support.

We have codes that we live by. The other crop circles are from those of Orion. They are and have been a calling card of sorts. Orion, in your past would leave the mark when they were approaching the solar system. The secret priesthoods know this. And then the priesthoods start to create confusion and war in the world before Orion arrives. Orion feeds off the energy. It's an offering. Your energy is an offering. All of the planets in your solar system have monuments on their surface at 19.5 degrees N and S. The reason is that it creates a magnetic polarity between the planets. Example: your Earth and Mars. Your Moon prior to being placed into your orbit, was polarized with Maldek.

If you continue to follow the pattern of your solar system you will see all planets are polarized together. This creates a sound and harmonic frequency. It has a pattern. It can, and is, being used to hold back a race of wonderful, loving, royal beings - You. You have been polarized to the negative polarity. Real love and respect will short circuit the coding. The planet will respond to your vibration. She loves you. 10% of you Terrans must hold a common vision. That vision must come from inside you. Think for yourself. Pay attention. Remember, all you really have is each other. Don't lose faith. Be at one."

Publishers Message

When my wife and I presented the idea of creating a newsletter to Alex as another way of sharing the knowledge and truth of his Andromedan friends to those seeking, he insisted that I too needed to contribute information on a continuing basis. When I asked why, Alex simply stated, "Because you have important thoughts to share as well."

I have given Alex's request much thought and have realized its meaning is very simple. I have always believed in this life, that I would be required once again to bridge the gap between people who already believe in the Truth and those who will require assistance in catching up. Furthermore, I know within my heart that I will be required as a moderator between ET races and my fellow Terrans. I have seen visions regarding this very clearly in my mind and know it to be true, just as I know that life exists on other planets, dimensions and Universes.

You see, I have been a leader many lifetimes before and know well the meaning of leadership. My past is riddled with lives as warriors and holy men. These two polarities have prepared me for the life I am living today.

Recently, I said to Alex that I couldn't figure out why we had found each other and formed our friendship. It's perfectly clear to me now! You see, our friendship is based on mutual respect and admiration. We bring to each others lives certain talents and knowledge that we can mutually share between ourselves. We are both teacher and student, often times in subtle ways that at first aren't apparent. We are there to support each other when either one needs assistance. Alex has shared a wisdom with me that sums it all up; "Don't follow me, I will not lead. Don't walk in front of me, I will not follow. Walk beside me and be my friend."

Remember, each of us has been in control of our lives all along, that we are each leaders in our own right. Please take a moment to be with the prime creator (Isness) and know the truth; that each of us has all the tools within us to see us all through the close of this extraordinary life cycle.

Our intentions are to produce this newsletter bimonthly. We hope you have found this premiere issue informative and thought provoking. "Letters From Andromeda" is intended to be a forum for the thoughts and valuable teachings from our Andromedan friends. From time to time, we plan to invite other important speakers within the field of Ufology who have information that must be shared. Some topics will be theme oriented or specific, while others will feature the latest information and happenings. The most important articles, will be reserved for those of you who want to share personnel thoughts and feelings that promote others in becoming self-aware, and empowered leaders.

So, until the next issue hits the presses and makes its way to you and your friends, bask within the Light of Creation and replace all fear with Love and the Power for which it brings. Love and Light to you all.
